 The Feast of the Assumption on August 15th reminds us of the hope and promise that awaits those who follow Christ with a faithful heart, just as Mary did. On August 22nd, we celebrate the Queenship of Mary, honoring her as our spiritual mother and Queen, who always intercedes for us and guides us toward her Son. These special feasts encourage us to our hearts more fully to God's grace and to seek Mary's example in our daily lives. Let us use this month to renew our devotion, pray together, and support one another in faith. Through Mary's loving intercession, may we grow ever closer to Christ and become instruments of His peace and love in the world.

Catholic Relief Services carries out the commitment of the Bishops of the United States to assist the poor and vulnerable overseas. We are motivated by the Gospel of Jesus Christ to cherish, preserve and uphold the sacredness and dignity of all human life, foster charity and justice, and embody Catholic social and moral teaching.

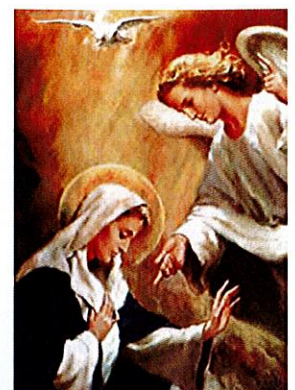

Never stop learning, because life never stops teaching.

Faith knows no bounds®
Our faith knows no bounds. With abiding faith in God, who works through us and through our partners, there is no limit to what we can do in service to others. We share a tireless commitment to advocating for our marginalized sisters and brothers while uplifting the dignity of the human person. Together, we work towards long-term impact and sustainable transformation on a global scale. We will not stop until all of God's children can fulfill their God-given potential amid thriving communities and just, peaceful societies. -CRS-

From the Desk of Fr. Dan

Kut googa mooga! Schools are back in session already. Good grief! Back in the day we didn't start school until after Labor Day. Before long, school will dismiss in mid-June, by the end of June kids will be back in class, and summer break will only be two weeks.

As I mentioned a few weeks ago, I will be starting a new adult faith formation class. I got a few responses, and more people were for the day option as opposed to an evening one. So, to start out, I will be offering the class, Oremus: A Guide to Catholic Prayer on Tuesday afternoons from 2:00-3:00 PM, starting September 2nd. It is an 8-week class that will wrap up on October 21st. For those looking for an evening slot, I will offer that at some point with the same course. Stay tuned for that.

For Annunciation, I want to give a shout out to Susanna White (O Susanna...) for her dedication and tireless work in getting the library up and running. She's been cleaning out and organizing the books that are in the library. She has gotten books for the kids to keep them occupied during church, and she has a selection of books on the book cart in the vestibule for those who want to borrow a book. I very much appreciate it and applaud her effort, and I think we all should as well. If you would like to help her, please reach out to the office and we can contact her or speak to her at Mass, thank you. The hard part is working on and setting up the card catalog according to the Dewey Decimal System and that means labeling the books. (Just kidding Susanna, just kidding).

And away, we go:

The main function of your little toe is to make sure all the furniture in the house is in place.

A wife asked her husband if he had seen the dog bowl. He said he didn't know the dog could bowl Someone broke into the neighbor's house last night and stole the limbo stick. I mean seriously, how low can one go?

Have a wonderful week.

we want to see.
